BFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE CITY

SATURDAY MORNING, : : : JAN, 6, 1872 THE POWER OF THE PRESS. If anybody still doubts the power of The press in which the people repose confidence we would refer them to the result of the recent municipal election in this city. But for the opposition of the Ledger and Affeal, a regular ward convention would have been forced upon the people in utter disregard of their known wishes. The Democratic malority is this wishes. The Democratic majority in this city is so de cided that there were indications that the contest would degenwhere elections would have been merely the registration of foregene conclusions. As in New York, where the majority is so powerful as not to be in fear of an organized and vigorous minority, the city government, being practically in the hands of the place-hunters, the offices become mere matters of bargain and sale. The people were unwilling to harm the following boards of directors were calcied: W. H. Coffin and Orias Balley, New York; Henry T. Blow and James P. Fisk, St. Louis; Charles E. Harwood, E. T. Robinson, M. J. Hubbell, J. T. Means and Henry Young, Springfield, Missouri; J. P. Robinson, Connecticut; E. Dahoney and A. S. Johnson, Paris, Texas; W. F. Simmons, Besumont, Toxas. The people were unwilling to hazard the A. S. Johnson was chosen vice-president. election of John Johnson to tricksters, and Henry C. Young managing director.

This road will leave the main line of the Atlantic and Pacific road at Pieroe City poses, would not healtate to pack a con-vention, butcher a faithful officer and nominate an unscrupulous partisan, who oared nothing for the prosperity of the oared nothing for the prosperity of the oity, so he rewarded his supporters. But the people would have been powerless had they not been sustained by the Ledger and the Arreal. The significance of the election on Thursday is that it was carried by the two papers named. They defeated the usual machinery of a nominating convention, which many citizens have come to regard as indispensable to understood for some weeks that the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad ing persons have made efforts to purge by ton and Union railroad of this State, thu way of securing the purity of elections. The fact is, if these things fall into the control of a powerful ring, there is no way a controlling interest in the accurities of given among men whereby they may be wrested from that control. The honest men who may feel moved by a sense of public duty to attend them do so in vain; mortgage bonds, upon which votes had not been cast, but the judges, who public duty to attend them do so in vain; for they find that their own lack of organization makes them, even if they are numerically in the majority, an easy prey to those who have possession of the party machinery, and whom long practice enables to manipulate it successfully. When public opinion becomes clearly outraged, and finds that the regular partisan organization gives it only the chance of choosing between two sets of men, the effective way is for the recognized exponents of public opinion—that is, the newspapers—to give it ion-that is, the newspapers-to give it shape by combining to name and advocate a ticket independent of party ties. Of course, the press could not have done this Rich Developments—Testimony of Horace | 20 is marked down to prices to close it unless public opinion had been with it. But it is equally true that public oninion could not have effected it without the aid of newspapers. There are house congressional committee had many reasons why it is not desirable that Horace Greeley before them this morning. the press, for if the nominations were habitually managed by the press, the press would become as corrupt as the press would become as corrupt as the to secure the election of delegates, present machinery for the selection of He stated that "fly or sixty custombonse of "rings" in all large cities that there is the organization of the legislature by a point where public forbearance with prom their schemes ceases, and that, when that told by his friends that the assemblymen from his district must work in the laterpoint is reached, there is, in the press, a mode of organizing an opposition and opposition which is potent enough utterly to upset them and their schemes. While we entertain these views in regard to elections purely municipal, involving no second-hand. Murphy had turned out a party issues or significance, we believe there are occasions when conventions should be held and when nominations should be as binding as a note or bond. Of these occasions we shall hereafter speak, and when they arise the APPEAL will be true to the behests of the party.

A friend who has lived many years in California, and witnessed the wonderful effects of water in moving great masses of earth in mining operations says, that with our four steam fire-engines, he can wash down the bluffs at the cost of less dreed of the general order business. Greeley believed that many people were deterred from giving evidence before the than $1000 for fuel. We commend this suggestion to the attention of the city held in the custombours. A night inepse tor was exaximed as to a seizure, and Colauthorities, and propose that the city engineer be directed to make an experiment proces before making the experiment. When the bread-riots occurred in Richmend during the war, another Memphia man suggested to Governor Letcher the propriety of using the steam fire-engine, guarded by soldlers, for the dispersion of the mob engaged in plundering the quartermaster's department. The jocular Governor could see the fun, but not the practical value of the proposed plan of The GREAT RED STOR conducting a war with a multitude of women. There was genuine merit in it. There's nothing like cold water to spothe the nerves, and nothing more promotive of good merals. Half the world that moves up and down the Mississippl judges of the taste and decency and progreasiveness of Memphis by the appearance of the city from its river front, Is would be well to have Memphis' face washed by the steem fire-engines, and if, Dry 600ds. as proposed, the ugly knots on the other wise fair face of the city may be expurgated by the jolly firemen, let the fire department be converted into a sort of barber-shop and remove the hidsons warts that disfigure the physiognomy of MENATOR ALCORN AND AMNESTY. The people of Mississippi are complimenting the speech of Senator Alcorn on the subject of general amnesty. Mr. Alcorn is entitled to all the praise which has been lavished upon him, for he has shown that he is guided by an enlightened humanity and an elevated statesmanship, the belief that amnesty is the only sure method of extirpating the vestiges of the rebellious spirit in the southern people. The disfrunchised are the better class, and the most influential, and it was for that very WILLIAM FRANK franchised. It is they who alone can effectually control the rest. To keep such a class manuscled in a free State is so monstrous an anomaly that it is calculated to excite discontent and disgust among even those who enjoy freedom without restraint. We do not doubt that this question of amnesty is the one uppermost in the Southern mind, sa Senator Alcorn assures us. The reception of Senator Schurz in Nashville, and the address sent him by the influential citisons of Texas, slike certify to a fact so fraught with significance. The Bouthern people will naturally think of nothing else until they are completely released from a durance that finds no vindication either in Justice or policy. Equal rights before the law is demanded for the disfranchised southern white people as much as for the favored black population.

HARMONY FOR THE PUTURE. The value of service done this city by those who have re-elected Mayor Johnson cannot be exaggerated. The APPEAL 238 MAIN ST., MEMPHIS, TENN. has never faltered or hesitated. Two incorporated by the Legislature of Teanes-Mr. Johnson to the public, and now the people have approved the wisdom of the party. The people are well pleased and ough and practical; affording superior facilthe party should surely be content,
